

The St Mungo Festival 7-14 January 2012

The St Mungo Festival 7-14 January 2012
13th and 14th January from 12 noon till 4.00 pm both days.

6 the Ballet at the St Enoch's Shopping Centre

Sixteen Visual Statement dancers aged between 10 and 16yrs, will be depicting the spirit of the city music and dance, and highlighting St Mango's coat of arms and his return to Glasgow from Hoddum after exile

This original concept especially devised for the event will be an eye catching and beautifully choreographed performance which will wow shoppers and passers by as they view the uplifting and inspirational performance and hear the tranquil music from Vanessa Mae's "A Little Scottish Fantasy" concluding with "Handel's For Unto Us A Child Is Born." The performance, choreographed by Danny Dobbie assisted by Brian McIntyre and Wendie Reid, will be a modern symphonic dance piece featuring the city's armorial coat of arms - The Bird, Bell, Fish, and Tree. The performance will be a collage of the characters and the usually unseen "spirit of Glasgow".

Central to the performance will be "The Seal Of The City" a metal movable sculpture commissioned by Visual Statement and designed by Andy Scott. The dancers will dance on, inside and around this structure to add an extra dimension to the performance.